A message from the founder of Arkansas Quilt Trails

What began as an adventure with a friend to build a quilt trail in our county about seven years ago has blossomed into a state-wide focus! Who doesn't love color, quilt patterns, and a good story? That's what you'll find when you drive one of our 21 county trails. Volunteers have worked tirelessly to construct and paint quilt blocks visible to travelers across Arkansas. Although this brochure is a wonderful resource to find the locations of the quilt blocks, you will want to visit ArkansasQuiltTrails.com to find the story behind each painted quilt block and usually some local history.

Use either the link or the QR code on each county trail page in this brochure to find that particular trail's stories on our website. Our quilt trails are constantly changing with new blocks added to existing trails and new trails being announced. The most current changes are reflected on the website. Load the webpage of the particular trail you will be traveling before you leave home as there may not be phone service to load it once you arrive. We hope to have an interactive map on the website in the future that will be helpful to plan your trip. Be sure to enjoy the local sights, shops, and places to stay along the way. Please be respectful of the property where you find the blocks and safely pull off the road to take a photo. Enjoy the journey! Please share your photos and comments at facebook.com/ArkansasQuiltTrails.

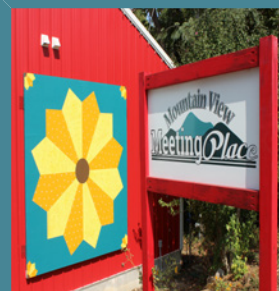

Happy trails,
Renee Rushing Carr
